BY HUGHES' SPEECH

6. O. P. Members of Congress Declare It Strong Statement and property have not been the necesmary result of the insurrections in Mexico, but have been almost whelly the result of our policy of interference and of mingled burif and timidity.

His reference to the dangers that will confront the country at the close of the European war, and to the need of preparedness, is strong. I am particularly pleased with his reference to woman suffrage. The best way to astile the question properly and quickly is by a national amendment.

Congressmes Rain of California—A straightforward, patriotic utterance that must commend itself to every right-thinking, broad-minded American.

Senator Kenyon-A very strong utter-ance. It has a good ring and will awaken the party to a stirring cam-

Former Senator Jonathan Bourne
I regard Mr. Hughes' speech as all shat could possibly be expected. He is one of the most forceful speaker in the Republican party and presented the issues in a most clear-cut and convincing manner. I believe the speech will have tremendous weight with the voters of America.

Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island—I have not yet read the speech, so am not in position as yet to comment upon it.

Congressman John J. Each of Wis-consin-Judging from the headlines it was a strong address and will have marked effect on the campaign.

Congressman James A. Frear of Wis-

Congressman "Uncle Joe" Cannon Illinois-I think it is O. K. so far as I read the abstracts from it in the morning papers, and I presume they are correct. It is unanswerable.

Congressman Edward Cooper, West Virginia—I am perfectly satisfied with the speech, and thoroughly approve all of it.

Congressman George P. Darrow, Pennsylvania—Fine. It certainly hit the high spots. I thought it very strong and altogether a fine speech.

Congressman Henry G. Danforth, New York—I thought it was a fine, compre-hensive speech.

Congressman C. C. Dill, Washington—
I think it is the best effort the Republicans could make. I don't see any pleas for social justice such as the Progressives have advocated so strongly, and I can't see that there is much of an invitation for the Progressives to come in on the Republican side, if they atill stand for the principles on which they left Mr. Taft. I think the speech was a very excellent effort on the part of Mr.
Hughes and is as good as could be made by any Republican.

Congressman Dudley Doolittle, Kansas—Mr. Hughes' speech is a rehash of projudices calculated to help manufacture an issue to sound different from the only one he has, which is the belligerent side of peace or war.

insue. The criticism of the Administra-tion falls flat, because it is not fol-lowed up by suggestions as to any better remedies than those offered. It seems to me to be along the lines of previous utteranges and to contain Senator Taggart—I have read it hurriedly. I notice that he finds a good deal of fault with the present Administration in regard to foreign policies and particularly in regard to the Mexican situation. But in all he has said I have falled to find where he pointed out any remedy or what he would have done in Fresident Wilson's place.

Senator Thomas—Mr. Hughes' address is the best effort of a great lawyer to frame an indictment of the Administration as the basis for a national campaign. He did the best he could. And in my judgment he demonstrated the strength and wisdom of the Wilson policies and of the Administration. policies and or the Administration.

Naturally, the argument is one of trenchant criticism. Its characteristic defect consists in its failure to outline a definite, coherent, or any other practical scheme of administration.

Congressman William A. Oldfield of Arkansas—It seems to me essentially a weak speech in that while it criticises the Administration in regard to its Mexican policy. Mr. Hughes does not say what he would have done if placed in the same position.

He also criticises the United States' action in the Lusitania controversy, but merely says what anyone could say and yet not be able to prove. It is a mass of baseless assertions, which I would not think a judicial mind could utter.

Congressman Scott Ferris, chairman of the House Committee on Public Lands—The speech represents the words of a carping partisan critic who, neither for himself nor for his party, can advance an issue in any sense attracive to the thinking public.

Congressman Lloyd of Missouri—I am disappointed in the speech. It is not as strong as I expected nor as vigorous as was indicated beforehand. His prezentation of public questions is more like a cross-roads politician than a statesman.

Congressman Lobeck of Nebraska—I have not read the speech, merely glancing over the headlines, but have no doubt it makes good Republican read-

Congressman Albert Estopinal of Louisiana—Haven't read it.

Congressman Edward Keating of Colorado—I can find no dynamite whatever for the Democrats in Candidate Hughes' speech. It doesn't seem to me to blow up the party or party principles as had been expected.

REPUBLICANS ELATED HUGHES OUT FOR SUFFRAGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Charles E. Hughes today declared for a woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution in a telegram sent Senator George W. Sutherland of Utah.

"My view is that the proposed amendment should be submitted and ratified," the Republican candidate said in his telegram to the Utah Senator.

CAR STRIKERS MAY TIE UP ALL NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 .- New York's vast surface system of street car lines, com-prising a total mileage of 1.578, was tence eminently qualified for their imprising a total mileage of 1,575, was threatened today with the most comportant work.

Suffragists Pleased By Hugnes' Suffrage Views

Miss Lucy Burns, vice enairman—We are glad the Republican candidate appreciates the need of prompt action in setting the problem of women's enfranchisement. Such prompt action as Mr. Hughes already realizes, can be secured only by the passage of a Federal woman suffrage amendment.

No doubt Mr. Hughes will declare specifically in the course of the next few weeks for the Susan B. Anthony amendment forbidding disfranchisement of American citizens on the ground of sex.

Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, press chairman of the Woman's Party and of the Congressional Union, said: "If the statement of Mr. Hughes is supplemented, as it doubtless will be, in nis Chicago speech, it will have a strong influence on the decision of the Colorado Springs conference of the Woman's Party, August 10."

Mrs. Wesley M. Stoner, president of Miss Lucy Burns, vice chairman-We the only one he has, which is the belligerent side of peace or war.

Congressman Frank E. Doremus, chairman Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, Michigan—I think that Mr. Hughes did as well as ne could with the materials at hand. No one can build a good house with poor timbers. No matter how hard he may try, the platform which Mr. Hughes constructed in Carnegie Hall last night constructed in Carnegie Hall last night will fall of its own weight long before the election.

Senator Flatcher—It impressed me as an effort to flounder about to find an issue. The criticism of the Administration falls flat, because it is not followed up by succession to the congressional Union.

"I don't think Hughes has done one thing more in expressing himself as he did last night than Woodrow Wilson went to New Jersey and voted for suffrage, and I think it is perfectly awful to give thughes so much credit for doing nothing. He has been just as evasive as regards the suffrage issue as Wilson ever was."

MEXICANS AID U. S. IN FIGHT ON BANDITS

"I wish to call attention to the co-operation of the Mexican troops," said General Bell, in concluding a report on the fight yesterday near El Paso in which two Americans were killed and one wounded. General Funston for-warded the report to the War Depart-ment.

After reciting the details of the fight, in which, he related, a detachment of eight Carranzistas, called across the river, aided the Americans in routing the bandits from the house in which they had taken refuge, General Bell said: bloody trail was found leading to river and across into the foothilis.

Mexicans took up this trail at once
are now following it."

HUGHES CHARGES MANY BLUNDERS

Our opponents promised economy, but Unlessthis right is granted the 30,000 they have shown a reckless extravathreatened to carry the fight to elevated and subway lines.

Such action, company and city officials admitted today, would result in such a street car strike as America has never known. As it is, a tie-up of the surface lines would seriously hamper business of all kinds.

The outlook was so gloomy Governor Whitman stayed over in New York today to discuss the situation with Mayor Mitchel, Police, Commissioner Woods, and other officials. Governor Whitman realizing what such a series of walkouts would mean, wanted to know if New York is 10,000 police could handle the situation whout militia aid.

Mayor Mitchel today called both sides to a conference at dity hall, at 1 o'clock. Conditions almost unprecedented in the history of street-car strikes in this country presented themselves today.

Strikers openly boarded the cars that tunity denied to none because of race or creed, of unswerving loyalty. We have a vision of America prepared and secure, strong and just, equal to her tasks, an exemplar of the capacity and efficiency of a free people. I indorse the platform adopted by the convention and accept its nomination.

a American History, and was struck by the following sentences:

"'A government touches the lowest point of ignominy when it confesses its inability to protect the lives and property of its citizens. A government which has come to this has failed in discharging the primary function of the government, and forthwith cesses to have any reason for existing."

"Mr. Hughes nas pointed out in his speech, with self-restraint, but with emphasis, that it is precisely this primary function which Mr. Wilson's Administration has failed to discharge, and it is precisely this point of ignominy to which he has reduced the nation over which he is President."

ROCKVILLE.

The members of the Montgomery Foxhunters' Association and other followers of the hounds enjoyed one of the best chases of their careers last evening near Unity, when a big, red fox was killed after a two-hour chase. Twenty of the best dogs owned in the county were beautifully bunched during the entire time and made the hills and valleys of the Unity Neighborhood ring with their cries.

Rockville Maons are completing elab-orate preparations for a fair to be held here Thursday and Friday evenings of this week for the benefit of the Rock-ville Masonic Library Association.

HYATTSVILLE.

The question of road improvement provoked a lively discussion at last night's meeting of the mayor and common council. Councilmen George M. McFarland presented an ordinance for the improvement of Washington avenue. Councilman William A. Brooks objected because no provision was made for the laying of sewer and water mains. This created a lengthy discussion as to the needs of the mains on this stretch, during which the improvement of Owens avenue was brought in. On a roll call yote the Washington avenue ordinance was lost. Later the attorney was instructed to draw an ordinance calling for the improvement.

Thomas Fenwick yesterday afternoon rescued Wesley Frame, aged nine years, from drowning. Young Frame and several boys were in one of the swimming hotes on the Northwest branch, near here, when he got into water beyond his depth. The cries of the boys attracted Fenwick, who was further down the stream. He reached the scene just in time to save the lad.

CIVILIAN RIFLEMEN TO COMPETE ON RANGE

Special Efforts This Week to Get Large Number to Winthrop.

Special efforts are to be made this week at the Winthrop range to make a record in the matter of the number of sharpshooters qualified among the civilian riflemen.

The abolition of special assignments for the members of the civilian rifle clubs has been found to work out with excellent results, according to Major Fred Phillips of the National Rifle Association. The members of the various clubs are going to the range in large numbers every day now and there has been considerable rivalry aroused in the clubs for positions on the club teams that participate in the weekly matches on Saturdays.

This week special detachments of marines and sallors from the Atlantic fleet will be on duty on the range taking the course in small arms practice and qualifying as instructors with the machine guns.

POLICEMEN CONFER ON TRAFFIC RULES

Major Pullman and Men Discuss Means of Enforcing Regulations.

Captains of all police precincts and motorcycle and bicycle policemen met in conference with Major Pullman yesterday in the board room of the District building to discuss the enforcement of the traffic regulations.

Major Pullman admonished the policement that the arrest of one reckless automobile driver who greatly exceeds the speed limit is far more desirable than to apprehend a driver who goes only a little over the speed limit or violates some minor traffic regulation.

The men were told the conferences would be held monthly to give all an opportunity to discuss the best method of decreasing traffic violations.

"The purpose of these meetings." Major Pullman said, "Is to secure uniform enforcement of the traffic laws and to adopt methods by which the policemen will be courteous in enforcing the law."
